Impact of New Economic Policy on the Poor

3249. SHRI RAJNI RANJAN SAHU: Will the Minister of FINANCE be pleased to state:

(a) whether it is a fact that the new economic policy is going to have an adverse effect on the gains made by the poverty elimination programme;

(b) if so, what is the reaction of Government thereto and what is the proposal so that the poor may not get adversely affected; and

(c) what are the measures taken in the new economic policy for primary education, basic health care, family planning and for the improvement of the living conditions of the poor people including earning opportunities for them?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF FINANCE (SHRI RAMESHWAR THAKUR): (a) to (c) No, Sir, The new economic Policy which mainly relates to structural adjustment in industrial and trade policies would not in any way dilute the gains made by the poverty alleviation programme as there is no change in the policy with regard to poverty alleviation programmes. In fact, in the Eighth Plan, a higher percentage of total public sector outlay of 7.93 per cent for rural development and 18.2 per cent for social services has been made as against 5.04 per cent and 16.31 per cent respectively in the Seventh Plan.
